BY: Dick Smith

My wife having been in the florist business for over 30 years, I knew that June was the biggest month for weddings. The traditional wedding vows are over 500 years old. The power and the meaning of the words have not changed. We take each other “for better or worst, in sickness and in health”. It is supposed to be a lifetime commitment, not for a little while, or until the fun and newness wears off. No other vows are more sacred. In these vows we promise God and each other “to love and cherish”. We seal the vows with a ring. “With this ring I thee wed”.

The ring, whether it be made of gold or silver, came from ore mined from the earth. It was formed and fashioned into a ring. When we look at this piece of jewelry, we cannot tell where it begins or ends. It is no wonder that one of the symbols for God himself is a circle or a ring. No beginning or ending but eternal. Remember the same God who made the earth and who made each of us is eternal. The scriptures say, “The eternal God is your refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms”.

On the lighter side

It was Palm Sunday and, because of a sore throat, five year old Johnny stayed home from church with a sitter. When the family returned home, they were carrying several palm branches. The boy asked what they were for. “People held them over Jesus’ head as he walked by.” Johnny said “wouldn’t you know it. The one Sunday I don’t go, he shows up.
